

What we believe

Diab

Stronger, lighter, smarter

We provide stronger, lighter and smarter composite solutions, realizing a more sustainable world. At Diab, we believe in a smarter future and we know that our light-weight yet strong core sandwich materials can contribute to that end. Diab represents a forward-thinking and dynamic brand that will help shape the future and that is reflected in everything we do.

What others say can't be done, we do everyday

For over sixty years Diab has been at the leading edge of composite core material development with successful projects all over the world. With the strength of a global company combined with the know-how that only local presence can bring, we offer optimized solutions wherever you are. Using our thorough knowledge of the market and our extensive experience, we take high-performance core sandwich materials and engineering excellence and mix them with a great deal of imagination to make your products stronger, lighter and smarter.

The best way to predict the future is to design it

Our forward-thinking spirit is evident in our brand identity. We are true entrepreneurs, a leader within the industry and a company that keeps evolving with you, our customer. Never resting on our laurels, we are actively working to develop solutions that harmonize with sustainability demands and decrease the lifecycle cost of your applications. We keep on developing and are eager to use our technical know-how to come up with ever stronger, lighter and smarter ideas for the future.

If you can imagine it, we can probably help you build it

Imagination is half the business, technical excellence the other. This combination has already taken us to the top of the structural cores industry globally. To maximize the benefits provided by our core sandwich concept, we offer technical assistance according to your needs. Customers in a wide range of markets, including marine, wind energy, transport, aerospace and industry, have already benefited from the expertise of our Technical Services, or developed innovative solutions together with Composites Consulting Group (CCG), an independent Diab Group company. Strategically located around the world we provide advice and support wherever you are.

Doing it right

At Diab, we believe we need to make a difference when it comes to global issues that affect us all. That is why we have made sustainability one of our top business priorities and moved it to the very heart of our corporate strategy, including full implementation of the four areas Strategy & Governance, Human & Labor Rights, Business Ethics and Environment. This is how we define it: "By developing toward a more circular business model and integrating sustainability in all core parts of our business, we will develop competitive solutions and applications for the market. By this we will take full responsibility for the way we do business, our impact on the environment and conditions for people in our value chain and develop cost-efficient solutions."

Strength from the core

Customer focus is at the heart of our business. We utilize our strength as a global company, as one Diab, and we share a cost management mindset, making certain that our entrepreneurial spirit provides you with the best products and solutions. That is why we empower our employees to take initiative and responsibility, and to drive solutions to improve. This “can-do” attitude we combine with trusted reliability. We keep our promises and stick to a strong and positive work ethic that puts safety first with a clear focus on sustainability. At Diab the right people do the right things, with high efficiency.

Brand identity

Our materials are light and strong and we want that to be reflected in our color palette. To make it easier for you to find relevant support, the different Diab segments have a clearly defined color.

WHAT WE BELIEVE

Typography

Our typeface Soho Gothic is a modern, soft and clean typeface. Its roundness symbolizes the freedom of design our material provides.

AaBbCc123

Logotype

Our well-known logotype, with strong curves moving upwards, reminds us of our pursuit of excellence and our ambition to take your products to the next level. It is both light and strong, just like our materials.

WHAT WE BELIEVE

Díab

Web

On our website you can find more information about sandwich core composite materials and their different applications if you are eager to learn more.

WHAT WE BELIEVE

Stronger, lighter, smarter

An aerial photograph of a dense forest, showing a vast expanse of trees from a high angle. The image is partially obscured by a large, solid blue diagonal shape that cuts across the top right corner. The sky above the forest is a pale, hazy blue, suggesting a clear day.

You can have it all. The superior strength-to-weight ratio of our materials allows for smarter solutions, saving cost, energy and the environment.

For more information visit our website diabgroup.com

Diab